

Chicago Architecture Center Announces Its Most Diverse Board of Trustees in its History

Eight Civic and Design Industry Leaders Join Board alongside incoming CEO of Choose Chicago/Departing CEO of CAC Lynn Osmond who stays on as President Emerita

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

March 29, 2022

Media contact:

Sinhue Mendoza

Director of Communications & Public Affairs

SMendoza@architecture.org

CHICAGO – The Chicago Architecture Center (CAC), a national leader in architecture and design education that offers tours, exhibitions and programs for all ages and levels of design expertise, announces eight new members to the CAC Board of Trustees.

“As I prepare to transition to Choose Chicago, I’m thrilled to see our most diverse board in our organization’s history and receive support of these leaders that no doubt will continue to make the CAC one of our city’s primary cultural institutions,” said Lynn Osmond, President and CEO of the CAC. “I’m excited to have Ann Thompson take the helm as board chair and honored to remain on the board as President Emerita.”

The new members are:

Stephen Cruise, Managing Director, Global Head of Industrials Client Advisory, Greenhill & Co., LLC

Cathy Odelbo, Morningstar, Inc. (Retired)

Edna Uribe, Vice President, Director of Sales, TelevisaUnivision, Inc.

Bill Williams, Founder, KMW Communities

Weifang Zhou, EVP & President, Testing, Inspection and Certification, UL

Kate Van Zeyl, DBIA, AIA, Vice President & General Manager, Turner Construction Company

Kathleen Carpenter (Ex-Officio, Docent Representative)

Mindy Viamontes, Partner, M Viamontes Architects (Ex-Officio, AIA Representative)

The new members of the CAC Board of Trustees join 27 elected and 1 appointed Ex-Officio board members.

For the full list of trustees visit the CAC website CAC Board of Trustees page.